In the February number of the North An the February number of the North American Review, Prof. George P. Fisher, of the Yale Divinity School, whose writings on the supernatural origin of Christianity and on ecclesiastical hilitory are well known, comes to the defense of the Christian religion against the attacks of modern doubt and infi-delity. No abler or more eminent advocate for the orthodox faith could be supercond delity. No abler or more eminent advocate for the orthodox faith could be summoned into the controversy that has lately been waged on this high theme, and it is not too much to say that Prof. Fisher justifies every expectation by the vigor and clearness with which he handles the subject. He disclaims, however, the position of a debater, and makes no direct reference to Colonel Internality assembles. Plant the position of a debater, and makes no direct reference to Colonel Internality assembles. Plant the properties of the proper ger-oil's assaults, although he necessarily deals with the objections so brilliantly and audaciously presented by that doughty com-batant. He proceeds in a very orderly man-ner to maintain a series of positions in regard the origin, essential character and bene-cent effects of the Christian faith, which intended in themselves to furnish answer to all objections and cavils.

February number of the Review are: "Do the Spoils Belong to the Victor?" by President Andrew D. White; "A Remedy for Railway Abuses," by Isaac L. Rice; "Repudiation in Virginia," by Sen-ator John W. Johnston; and "The Lancet and the Law," by Henry Bergh.

LAIDE, (An Ugly Woman,) soon to be published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is one of the most exciting and charming books ever written. Its author is the famous Mme. Adam, editress of the Nowelle Rerue, being the Republican Madonna of Paris, who is now commanding the attention of all Europe and is manding the attention of all Europe, and is about to visit St. Petersburg at the invitation of the czarina. Her saion is the most popular and influential in Paris, as all the ministers, all the republican generals, and all the republican journalists are assiduous at her receptions, the fair hostess being the especial friend and admirer of Gambetta. She is also very handsome, has chameleon-like eyes always magical in their glance. charming Grecian nose, a pretty mouth, full, witty and good humored, an oval face, is elender, tall, brown-haired, and is said to have the most splendid arms and most besu-tiful shoulders in the world, and is also the

Electures Upon Africa at the Beale Street

Baptist Church.

Last night Beale Street Church was crowded with an eager audience to listen to Prot.

Hazely, a Iuli-blooded Africau. The Rev. B. N. Countee, pastor of the church, introduced the professor, who exhibited his paintings of Africa and a few scenes of England and America. Those of America were the signing of the Declaration in 1776, the Centennial views of 1876 and the assassination of President Garfield, his death and funeral, which occasioned moaning and sighs in the audience. Then the professor exhibited his African paintings, which were numerous.

The paintings illustrated heathen and civilized Africa. H is electure was very interesting.

JACKSON, TENN., January 21 .- We are in the midst of a dreadful spell of weather. The floodgates of heaven have been opened for the last two or three weeks, raining con-stantly. The streets and roads are in a fearful condition, almost impassable. Our mer-chants are rather blue; not much trade; country people cannot get to town.

There has been some changing around at the courthouse lately. Judge H. W. McCorry, who has been judge of the Common Law and Chancery Court of this countr for the list six or seven years, resigned this week. The governor will appoint Judge T. C. Muse, one of our best citizens and lawyers, Muse, one of our best chizens and harders to fill his place.

Colonel D. M. Wisdom, an old journalist, and clerk and master of the Chancery Court for the past eleven years, resigned his office last Saturday, and M. L. Vesey was appointed in his place. Colonel Wisdom will follow more genial pursuits in the future. His friends want him to run for Congress.

He is popular and a good man.
Our distinguished fellow-citizen, General
A. W. Campbell, has announced himself for Congress from this district.

There has just been established in this city a brokerage association. Some of our best men are at the head of it. men are at the head of it.
